1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on October 14, 2003 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 36-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 36, lines 6-7 appear to repeat a step recited in lines 4-5. Are there two production wellbores extending into the subterranean gas storage formation? Lines 8 and 10, "the storage wellbore" lacks an antecedent within the claim.

Claims 37-42, 45, and 49, for example, do not provide antecedent basis for "the storage wellbore".

Art Unit: 3673

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

4. Claims 36, 37, 39-44, 49, 52-55, and 59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Donovan et al. Donovan et al. discloses, Fig. 2, a method involving extension of a production wellbore and a storage wellbore, any of 20b', 20b'', 20b''', or any of 20, intersecting the production and storage well bore at a junction leading into a main wellbore 10, (or 20b in the case of wellbores 20b', 20b'', and 20b'''), though 20b serves as a wellbore, and injecting and withdrawing gas from the wellbores, col. 3, lines 45-48 and col. 6, line 66 to col. 7, line 6. Valves are included for control of gas flow within each or any of the tubular strings within each respective wellbore, col. 6, lines 6-10. Injection and production tubular strings are located within the main wellbore as along 26.

Art Unit: 3673

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 50, 51, 60, and 61 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Donovan et al. Donovan et al. teaches, Fig. 6, various arrangement of pipes or tubular strings within the main wellbore. To have formed any of the tubular strings within the main wellbore as a production tubular string and an injection tubular string formed coaxially with the injection tubular string formed within the production tubular string, thus allowing for a compact arrangement within the main wellbore, would have constituted an obvious expedient to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made as taught by Fig. 6 of Donovan et al.

7. Claims 56-58, 62, and 63 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3673

8. Claims 38 and 45-48 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
